

New Cinema Equipment at Corinium Museum

The Corinium Museum in Cirencester is delighted to announce it has installed new state of the art cinema equipment and will be screening a full programme of Royal Opera House and Royal Shakespeare Company live performances.

The new equipment and live screenings have been kindly sponsored by local solicitors Sewell Mullings Logie. The Royal Opera House's Live Cinema Season 2019/20 will showcase 6 Operas and 6 Ballets, all broadcast live from Covent Garden. There will also be a special screening of the Christmas Classic 'The Nutcracker' that originally aired in 2016.

Amanda Hart, Museum Director, said: "The live screenings are proving to be very popular with every screening selling out. What's nice for the museum is that it attracts a completely different audience who otherwise may not visit us."

Erica Burrows, Managing Partner Sewell Mullings Logie, said: "We are delighted to sponsor the new cinema equipment at the Corinium Museum. The Museum's cinema screenings bring world class productions to the heart of Gloucestershire."

The exciting programme of screenings will include:

- The Nutcracker (The Royal Ballet), 17 December, 7.15pm
- La Boheme (Royal Opera House Live), 29 January, 7.45pm
- Marston and Scarlett (Royal Ballet Live), 25 February, 7.15pm
- Fidelio (Royal Opera House Live), 17 March, 7.15pm
- Swan Lake (Royal Ballet Live), 1 April, 7.15pm
- Cavalleria Rusticana/ Pagliacci (Royal Opera House Live), 21 April, 7pm
- Elektra (Royal Opera House Live), 18 June, 7.45pm

Tickets cost £17 per adult or £15 for Members. To book please call into the Corinium Museum or telephone 01285 655611, alternatively book online at www.coriniummuseum.org

ENDS

Media Contact: Sarah Lewis, sarahlewis@slm-ltd.co.uk 01285 655611

Images:

- Sleeping Beauty
- La bohème
- Swan Lake

About the Corinium Museum

The Corinium Museum tells the story of archaeology across the Cotswolds with an emphasis on discoveries from Roman Corinium. A vibrant temporary exhibition programme takes place throughout the year.

About Sewell Mullings Logie Solicitors

Sewell Mullings Logie Solicitors Cirencester have been at the forefront of legal services for over 200 years. From their offices in Cirencester they have seen much change in our surrounding town and villages but have remained a constant serving the private, agricultural and business communities. They value our heritage and traditional core values, placing an emphasis on ensuring that their clients receive a high standard of service, whatever their situation.